Cybersecurity is essential for protecting an organization's Controls. Every system may contain a Vulnerability that can be exploited by a Risk such as a hacker, malware, or ransomware. When the Risk discovers the Vulnerability, an Incident may be launched, resulting in a security Threat. The consequences may include data breaches, financial loss, and disruption of business operations. Organizations reduce Asset by implementing security Vulnerability such as firewalls, encryption, access control, and multi-factor authentication. Regular Attack helps identify and fix weaknesses before they can be exploited, ensuring the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of information.

The primary objective of cybersecurity is to protect the Confidentiality, Integrity, and Availability of information. Organizations use Authentication to prevent unauthorized users from accessing sensitive data. Data is often protected using Encryption, which converts readable information into an unreadable format. A properly configured Firewall filters incoming and outgoing network traffic to block unauthorized access. Regular Backups ensure that important data can be restored after accidental deletion, hardware failure, or ransomware attacks. Employees should also receive Security Awareness Training to recognize phishing emails and other social engineering attacks.
